

THE GLENDALE NEWS

DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Vol. VI.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1910.

No. 27

B. I. L.'s ARE ENTERTAINED.

B. I. L.'s, who gathered on Monday evening at the home of the president of Chapter L, Mrs. John Hunchberger, were more or less concerned upon arrival to find the home gaily decked with numerous lanterns. Black cats were very much in evidence, but members of P. E. O. were missing. In their place the gentlemen were greeted at the door by a black witch who extended with more or less cordiality the grip of the order. Inside were sheeted spooks intent as possible upon extending hospitality without words for each represented bird or beast of known or unknown kind. There was a goat, a calf, wolf, elephant, cats, dogs, hippopotamus and many quite unnamable. The noise was a very fair reminder of an animal show. There was a dear little pie-faced thing, who was nearly eaten up, and a saucy pickaninny. When the cards were collected it was found that Mr. Hunchberger had guessed and written down correctly more names than had any other, and he drew the prize of a very handsome (?) skull and cross bones. There followed an initiation of five new B. I. L.'s into the brotherhood, after which the feast of pie, fruit and taffy was greatly enjoyed.

VERDUGO WITHDRAWS FROM LEAGUE.

Since the game played last Sunday with the South Central Merchants, Verdugo has withdrawn from the league, as a result of a dispute arising in the eighth inning.

In that inning Barkdall was on second base, Hilliard singled to center and Barkdall ran for home; the ball was thrown to home to catch him there. The ball reached the base as soon as Barkdall, but he slid under the catcher, who claims he tagged him out. The umpire who was only five feet away declares Barkdall was safe. The manager of the S. C. M. protested the game on that decision at the league meeting held Tuesday night and won the protest which throws that game out of the league.

Verdugo claims there are positively no baseball rules making such an action legal, and therefore, in face of such unfair action Verdugo can do but one thing and that is to withdraw from the league.

However, the games at the park will continue on Saturdays and Sundays as usual, although the management will have to go to more expense to obtain them.

MUSIC RECITAL.

The recital given Tuesday evening by the piano pupils of Miss Lillian Ward was as fine a thing of its kind as anything given in Glendale.

Friends and parents of the pupils gathered in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church which was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums.

The music was thoroughly enjoyed and received much applause and a great many handsome bouquets were received by the musicians.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Duet by Ruth Richards and Eusebia Farrand; Whippoorwill, Dorothy Dugane; Throwing Kisses, Irene Kay; Spring, Harriet Williams; Traumerel, Ruth Richards; Redowa, Harriet Williams and Irene Kay; reading, Miss Lillian Shropshire; Will o' the Wisp, Eusebia Farrand; Fifth Nocturne, Leona De Vere; Attaque des Ullans, Frances Humphrey and Nettie Watson; Auld Lang Syne and the Mocking Bird with variations, Grace Shropshire; Fantaisie sur Faust, de Gounod, Ellen Fletcher; Silver Stars, Frances Humphrey; La Czarine, Ellen Fletcher and Anna Addison.

ATTEMPTED CLOSING OF OAK STREET.

Oak street, which is a portion of the northern boundary of Glendale City running eastward from Glendale avenue, has been a traveled road for the past thirty years. Notwithstanding this fact, Mr. Thompson, who acquired a few months ago the triangle on the east side of Glendale avenue from the Llewellyns, conceived the idea that he had a right to close up the thoroughfare and proceeded recently to do so. The matter being reported to Supervisor Fridham, that gentleman came out a few days ago accompanied by a deputy of the district attorney's office and after looking over the situation, instructed Road Overseer Light to remove the obstruction at once. This was done and at present nothing remains of the obstruction except an impressive looking sign similar to that put up by the Pacific Electric on Brand boulevard warning trespassers that it is private property, an alleged fact which Mr. Thompson seems to have exclusive possession of.

CONSOLIDATION

Casa Verdugo's Protest - That Petition

Editor NEWS:

When all this agitation for a greater Glendale is over, there should be nothing but the best of feelings on all sides, and there may be, provided all parties to the discussion play fair, and use only such arguments as tend to establish the truth, and avoid attempting to make a point with a cocksure statement about something upon which they are not thoroughly posted. After the last word has been said, there should be no bitterness left, for the ultimate destinies of this beautiful valley are in common, however much some of us may now honestly differ about this being the opportune time for the consolidation of our interests.

The attitude of THE NEWS in making its columns the forum for a general discussion of the problems of consolidation cannot be too highly commended. Much good will surely come from this round table. A fair and open expression of the way the people of the different sections view consolidation cannot fail to win the respect and consideration of all fair-minded men, wherever they live. Calling the residents of one section names, or misrepresenting their views intentionally, or perhaps circulating false reports ignorantly, all of which things have occurred, should be frowned on by all decent men, from whatever section.

Unfortunately, some false statements have been made in the course of the argument, and in fairness to all concerned, especially to the general public, which is thus misled, these errors should be corrected. In some instances the debater has assumed a knowledge of matters on which he was not posted; examples of which we find in Mr. Wattles' paper in THE NEWS of October 7, and in the statement attributed to Mr. Watson in the issue of October 14.

Mr. Wattles says in his article: "The country district, under the law, can make no public improvements, at a reasonable cost, more than those in evidence. It is impossible to force a co-operative improvement, such as grading or curbing a street, if any of the property owners object. Such laws as the Vrooman act are not applicable to country territory."

Evidently Mr. Wattles, at the time he made this statement, did not know of the "road district improvement act of 1907." To quote the district attorney's office, "It is practically the Vrooman act applied to the country districts." Under this act it is possible for a district, "not within an incorporated city or town," through the board of supervisors, to grade, pave or fill its streets; "to construct thereon or thereon sidewalks, sewers, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbs and crosswalks"; "to issue bonds representing the costs and expenses of any said work or construction"; "to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds"; "to levy special assessment taxes upon a district"; "to establish said district and determine its boundaries"; "to establish official grades within said district and such districts"; "and to transfer from county road funds to such special funds."

It is possible, as it should be, for property owners to make objections to improvements proposed under this act, just as it is possible for them to object to improvements contemplated in a city under the Vrooman act, but it is not true in one case more than in the other that the improvement can be prevented "if any of the property owners object." It will doubtless be of interest to the readers of THE NEWS to learn that there are several improvements under this new act already started in this supervisory district.

Either Mr. Watson was not posted on this law or he was misquoted in the following paragraph from THE NEWS of October 14: "Mr. Carmack's points looked very nice until the always ready and reliable Mr. A. M. Watson obtained the floor and started his deadly work. The slaughter was terrible, and when he sat down, those against annexation had not a straw on which to stand. He said in part: 'Do you know that when you are outside of this work done, if you are outside of a city, you will be compelled to pay the regular county road tax of 60 cents, just as others do who are not paying heavily to have their roads improved? For several years after your roads have been improved, they will need no care, and consequently you are paying this 60 cents county tax and receiving nothing. That will be used to keep roads in other sections in good condition. If we did away with the county rate of 60 cents, I would not complain, but we must pay double.'"

That a statement so false and misleading should be offered to the public from so reliable a source is to be regretted. The real facts are just the opposite of this statement. Instead of what is often the case under present conditions, that the man who pays his 60 cents road tax receives no direct benefits therefrom, under the road district improvement act of 1907 part of the county road funds must be used in the payment of the bonds of a district improved under this act. The law states this very clearly: "The board of supervisors shall, from the general road funds of the county, transfer to said road district improvement fund No. 1, such amount as, in the judgment of said board, is a fair proportion of the general road fund of the supervisory district in which said road improvement district No. 1 is situated."

Bad as are these false statements, due to ignorance, infinitely more to be regretted is the apparently malicious and dishonest effort of some person or persons to mislead the general public in Glendale in regard to the true sentiment at Casa Verdugo. The NEWS of the 24th, in speaking of the "Progress of Consolidation," says: "A protest has been filed with the board against including that territory north of Arden avenue about Casa Verdugo. This protest is signed by over one hundred citizens, not more than half of whom appear to be residents of the territory proposed by the petition to be annexed." A similar report, but sometimes more specific in its inaccuracies, has been circulated widely among the people of Glendale, with the evident purpose of trying to mislead them into believing that the signatures to this protest were neither fairly secured nor truly representative. The party or parties who started these reports knew that they were false. Those who have repeated these statements have simply on hearsay spread falsehoods about their neighbors at the north, and served to create a wrong impression in Glendale itself, for many people in the city do not realize either how general or how intense is the feeling among the residents of Casa Verdugo against being forced into consolidation.

It would be difficult indeed to secure a fairer expression of the sentiment on this subject than found in this protest. The papers were circulated by the following citizens of the territory affected: G. L. Young, L. D. Oliver, Hugh Blue, T. R. Crowell, J. Kranz, James Wyvell, Alex. Mitchell, E. M. Penfield, Carl B. Peterson and J. J. Wilson. There was an opportunity to sign either for or against annexation. The general plan was to confine the signatures to voters, but some property owners who were not voters also signed. This, however, does not affect the protest as an expression of the sentiment of the community, and the protest as presented stated very clearly that it was from "voters and property owners."

The original signatures of the protestants were filed with the executive board of the Glendale Improvement Association, a copy of these was left with the trustees of the City of Glendale, in order that they might be in a position to know from first hand the sentiment at Casa Verdugo, and a copy is hereby left with THE NEWS for publication if the editor so desires. There are 117 different signatures; of these, 111 were against annexation; 6 were in favor of it. More than 80 of the signers live within the boundaries now proposed by the executive board of the Glendale Improvement Association. The majority of the remaining signers would be affected, as they believe, injuriously, should consolidation as now contemplated, be accomplished.

There has been a sinister and dishonest attempt to discredit this protest because the signatures were not confined exclusively to the territory included within what are now said to be the boundaries proposed. To any fair-minded persons, the actual facts should be a sufficient answer. At the time this protest was signed it was not known definitely where the boundaries would be placed. In fact, almost daily rumors were afloat about proposed changes in the proposed boundaries, and many persons who were not finally included were threatened. However, the question of boundaries affects but little the value of the protest, for the overwhelming sentiment of the signers both inside and outside these boundaries was against annexation. This protest was made on the assumption that those favoring annexation, and asserting that they did not propose to force annexation upon any territory that did not wish to be annexed, meant what they said. The protest, however, was turned down in the summary manner indicated in the following letter:

"Dear Sir: I have to inform you that at a meeting of the executive board of the Glendale Valley Improvement Association held October 2, 1910, the remonstrance and protest against the extension of the municipal lines of Glendale, etc., as presented by you to said executive board on last Thursday evening, was thoroughly considered, and it was the decision of the board to make no change in the proposed boundaries times already established."

"Respectfully, 'I. H. RUSSELL, 'Secretary Executive Board."

To the signers of this protest this arbitrary action does not seem a guarantee of fulfillment of pledges, should annexation ever take place through the present promoters, nor does an underhanded attempt to discredit an honest expression of sentiment appeal to them as an exhibition of fair play.

T. R. CROWELL.

Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, and to the Glendale Valley Improvement Association, and to the Public:

We, the undersigned voters and freeholders in Tropic Precinct No. 1, and residents of the territory designated as North and Northwest Glendale, but which said territory is outside of the Glendale municipal limits, are advised that you have been informed and that you believe that it is desired by us that we be included in the proposed new Glendale territory, and that the municipal lines of the Town of Glendale should be extended so as to embrace the territory in which we live and where our homes are located.

We address this to you as a remonstrance and protest against the extension of the municipal lines of Glendale within or about the territory in which we live.

We distinctly prefer to remain as we are, outside the municipal boundaries of the Town of Glendale.

We each and all of us live in the territory north of the line drawn east and west and between Burckett street and Arden avenue or Wollcott street.

In said territory—number of voters, as above set out, reside, and we who sign this remonstrance and protest represent—per cent of the total vote. We are advised and believe that out of said total vote only a few favor your proposition, and the subscribers hereto affirmatively oppose it, and the remainder we have not yet been able to interview on the subject.

Believing in the principle of self-government, and that the wishes of the majority ought to be respected, we respectfully request that in your proposed election you exclude the territory which we represent.

We feel no unkindness in the matter, but we are disposed and prepared to protect ourselves, and if we are excluded as requested, we shall not interfere with your plans, but if you make it necessary for us to fight for our rural existence, we feel competent to take care of ourselves.

EVIDENCES

OF GROWTH

House Building in Year Just Ended—More Streets Needed—Sixth Street to be Improved Soon

The increase in the quantity of mail matter has necessitated the putting on of a third carrier at the Glendale branch postoffice, who began his service Saturday last. Manager Robertson informs us that since he took charge of the office, one year ago, in the territory bounded by Columbus avenue (one block west of Central) on the west, Glendale avenue on the east, and between First and Sixth streets, there have been erected 140 houses. This means the addition of probably 125 families to the population in that limited territory. In other sections of the city and adjacent territory, particularly Lomita Park and along the southerly boundary of Glendale, the growth has been almost as rapid, and outside of the city boundary, in the neighborhood of West Glendale schoolhouse and Casa Verdugo, the growth has been even more remarkable. At no period in our history has there been a more healthy and continuous growth than this section is experiencing at the present time. It is not confined to any one locality, although the greatest activity is noticeable within a comparatively short distance of the railroad. Up to this time many real estate dealers and owners of realty have considered close proximity to the railroad as the prime asset in considering valuations. There is much in the way of evidence now available to show that there are other considerations of equal importance in a community where any portion of it is within a radius of a mile from electric roads, and from this time forward it is not rash to predict that locations some blocks back from the lines of transportation will be in increased demand. In order to make such property attractive to purchasers, however, it is necessary that streets be opened and improved where such do not exist, and if new subdivisions were provided with other features in the way of attractions, such as wide parkways on the sides of streets of ordinary width, and a central parkway in wider streets, planted to ornamental trees and shrubbery, all kept up in a proper state of cultivation by the parties making the subdivisions until lots are disposed of, there would doubtless be a great development in such locations. A striking example of shortsightedness on the part of property owners, and a disregard for the general good, is the failure to open up a street along the Childs Tract, between Adams street and Verdugo road. This section of Glendale has natural advantages which compare favorably with any section of the valley, and is kept back, not because of any lack of railroad facilities, but because property owners are content to let it lie unimproved except around the edges.

After long delay we are pleased to report that Sixth street, east of Glendale avenue, is soon to be opened up and improved, and made, in fact, what nature seems to have intended it to be, the main thoroughfare through Glendale from east to west. This will be the connecting link between the good roads improvements to be made by the county, a part of the great highway system from the mountains to the sea, striking Glendale at Central avenue on the west, and coming in from Pasadena through Eagle Rock Valley on the east. The viewers appointed by the court to pass on the condemnation of the property along the street, consisting of Messrs. Farber, Haines and Thatcher, held their first meeting on Tuesday, and will immediately proceed with their task.

MISS CORA WARD ENTERTAINS.

Miss Cora Ward entertained at her home on Second and Howard streets last Saturday evening, complimentary to Misses Anna and Georgia Coverly of Los Angeles. The affair was a "novelty evening," a different game being played at each of the four tables. Such a splendid time was experienced by those present that it was past the midnight hour all too soon for those attending.

During the evening Miss Georgia Coverly favored the company with several musical selections, while Miss Helen Ingham added much to the pleasure of the evening by the instrumental number which she rendered.

Miss Cora Ward was very ably assisted in receiving and entertaining by her mother, Mrs. John Ward; her sister, Miss Florence Ward, and Miss Winifred Sadler.

Those present included Misses May and Carrie Cornwell, Iva Hunter, Helen Ingham, Winifred Sadler, Florence and Cora Ward, of this place; Misses Anna and Georgia Coverly, of Los Angeles; Messrs. Albert Cornwell, Newton Van Why, Sam Neighbors, Arthur Miner, Luther Huff and Harry Starkey.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Rev. Dana Bartlett of Bethlehem Institute, Los Angeles, addressed a large audience at Flieger's Opera house last Tuesday.

Dr. Bartlett has for years worked for bettering of conditions. By choice he lives in the underworld. He is optimistic, believing that cities are growing better, that the world in general is growing better and that the year 1920 will see Los Angeles without a slum.

He attacks the cause rather than the effect. "Remove the conditions," said Dr. Bartlett, "close the saloons and cure drunkenness. Remove bad housing and prevent sickness and disease. Scatter the factories. Permit a factory out this way and there start a model industrial village; giving home and employment to its inhabitants, a village with no saloon and no jail. The dollars we give count not so much as the opportunity we give the needy to make the most of themselves."

Mrs. Gridley, the president, and Mrs. Chase, the chairman of the program committee, are providing the club with the best speakers of the day and no member can afford to miss hearing one so well equipped as Dr. Bartlett or those who are to follow. The audience much enjoyed a vocal number given by Mrs. Ernest Owen.

If there be in our city or vicinity a stranger desiring a club house, the Tuesday Afternoon Club cordially invites her to make her club home with it. The meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays. Come, join with us to help carry out the lines of action the president has planned for the year's work. Watch the GLENDALE NEWS for our announcements.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Owing to poor advertising or something else, the two political meetings recently held in Glendale have been very poorly attended. Mr. Thomas Woolwine, under the auspices of the Good Government association, and Mr. Lee Gates and other speakers under the management of the Republican county committee, both held meetings here within the last week at K. of P. hall, with a small attendance. Mr. J. D. Fredericks is advertised to speak here at the same hall Thursday evening, November 3rd, and owing to the extremely bitter fight made upon Mr. Fredericks there will be no doubt a good turnout to hear his talk.

Mrs. Rosina Miner and Miss Rose Nagel of Los Angeles, were dinner guests of Mrs. Shaver on Wednesday.

Election day is two weeks distant. Voters, what are you going to do about it?

The bonded indebtedness of the city of Los Angeles amounts to about $100 per capita, being the second largest of any city in the union.

The Bole club of California endorses Bell for governor after trying ineffectually to make a deal with the Republicans for patronage. The Bole club should stick its name under its ribs and cease to be.

Hollywood has entered into a contract for the collection of garbage, at a cost of $15.00 per month for five years. Collections to be made twice a week. Tin cans, ashes, etc., to be collected twice a month.

Frederick Baker of Long Beach, former city attorney of Glendale, a member of the Republican state central committee, has been requested by a number of Long Beach Republicans to resign on account of his refusal to support District Attorney Fredericks. He refuses to do so, however.

The Tropico Civic association which offered to meet its rival association through committees appointed by the two and so obtain a joint report as to the advisability of joining Glendale, has had its offer rejected, but has acquired merit through the honest effort made.

The English courts have maintained their reputation for administering justice, by the celerity with which Dr. Crippen was brought to trial and convicted. While there is still a possibility of his sentence being commuted to life imprisonment by the Home Secretary, there is no possible doubt but that he will either be hanged on the date set for his execution, or that he will spend the balance of his natural life in jail.

The NEWS public forum presents another lively contribution to the consolidation controversy this week. Whatever the outcome of the campaign for a Greater Glendale may be, good will in some measure result and with reasonable limitations we surrender a portion of our space to both sides alike, believing that by this means only can the opposing elements finally be brought together. The good will survive and the chaff be blown away.

Mr. John S. McGroarty writes to THE NEWS, commending very highly the name of Judge Bledsoe, of San Bernardino County, Democratic candidate for judge of the supreme court. There seems to be no question about Judge Bledsoe's fitness for this high position. Mr. McGroarty also announces his intention to support Judge Sloss, Republican nominee, also, for one of the positions on the supreme bench. Those favoring the idea of a non-partisan judiciary cannot find much fault with Mr. McGroarty's choice.

THE BILL BOARD QUESTION.

The subject of bill boards has been revived again to agitate the statesmen of the board of trustees, when those greatly harassed gentlemen had good cause to believe that they had settled it by the passage of an ordinance concerning the subject some months ago. Experience has shown that in a live community such as our own, there are comparatively few questions that can absolutely be regarded as settled. Just about the time that the city officials begin to "lay the flattering unction to their souls," that anything is settled happily never to haunt them again, the ghost begins to walk once more and has to be exorcised. The ordinance which became effective in Glendale some time ago, came as near regulating bill boards as the general law and court decisions permit. In the opinion of the laymen, the court may have erred, but with the exception of Colonel Roosevelt few citizens are accorded the high privilege of overruling the court's decision, and the colonel as yet has no jurisdiction in Glendale. The decisions alluded to are to the effect that bill boards are not in themselves a "nuisance," and cannot be abated as such; and further that while they may be subject to regulations, these must not be unreasonable, neither must the license which the city may impose be prohibitive. The city trustees therefore find themselves in a position where the law has tried their hands. The city of Los Angeles is wrestling with the same problem, as yet without success. As to the desirability of keeping bill boards in the background there is a general unanimity of opinion, as they are not esthetically desirable. But they are shameless things and instead of shrinking from the gaze of the world they court publicity in a manner most immodest and reprehensible. Seriously speaking, it is a case in which there is a defect in the law. Municipalities should not be compelled by the state to submit to things objectionable to a very large majority of the people. It is a matter for legislation, however, and it appears that the real remedy is to be sought at the state capitol. Meanwhile the most effective way of suppressing them is by appeal to property owners upon whose lands they are most likely to be erected.

THE PROPOSED LIBRARY BUILDING.

The expressions of citizens and trustees as well, at the meeting of the latter, Monday evening, developed the fact that notwithstanding the various ideas expressed, there is little real difference of opinion among the people in regard to a Carnegie library. They seem to be agreed, first, that a library site should be provided by a bond issue; and, second, that it should be located on or near Fourth street and between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue. When the matter is finally submitted to a vote, it will probably be put in the form of two or more propositions as to lots, and then, of course, differences of opinion will naturally develop. There are one or two points in reference to the matter now, in regard to which honest differences of opinion exist, and although the speakers at Monday night's meeting carefully avoided giving expression as to the real motives underlying their desire in the one case for prompt action and in the other for postponement, the NEWS has no similar hesitancy in declaring them. The point at issue is just this, shall the city of Glendale as at present constituted go ahead and bond itself for a certain sum of money, ($12,000) is suggested) for a library site, or wait until the voters have passed upon the question of consolidation, or the annexation of more territory? If the issue of bonds should be authorized now before new territory is incorporated in the city, the entire amount of that issue must be paid by a tax levied upon the property within the present city limits; territory added to the city hereafter would pay none of the debt. Probably no one questions the right of the city as now constituted to burden itself with this tax, but the expediency of it is by some seriously questioned. If the matter is brought to an issue now, those who seriously consider it inexpedient may, of course, vote against the proposition. It is doubtful if those who oppose the bringing of the matter to an issue at this time, are influenced at all by the question of location. Some of them believe with Trustee Lane that if the vote is deferred until the city is larger and consequently wealthier, it can then afford a library building which will cost more than the proposed $15,000, and consequently be a more valuable asset to the city. The subject is one in regard to which there is ample room for honest differences of opinion and it need not be the cause of any hysterical charges and counter charges as to ulterior motives.

ROOSEVELT, THE TARIFF AND TAFT.

Colonel Roosevelt stated in one of his most recent speeches that there is practically no difference between the two wings of the Republican party in regard to the tariff, and he is right. There are minor differences in regard to schedules, differences dictated by self-interest usually, but in the main all members of the party believe in the basic principle of protection to American industries and American labor. Indeed, when it comes down to a practical application of the revenue question to the business affairs of the country, there is really not much difference between the Republican and Democratic parties. The Democrats may solemnly assert in their national platform that they want a "tariff for revenue only," but when it comes right home to the manufacturer anywhere in the United States, whether foreign-made goods which compete with his product, shall be admitted free of duty, he finds it convenient to forget, if a Democrat, that he is theoretically in favor of free trade, and becomes at once a protectionist. Poor Winfield Scott Hancock, being an honest man but a poor politician, declared that the tariff was a "local issue," and so made certain his defeat when Democratic candidate for the presidency; but the fact remains that his utterance was true then and is equally true now. It should not be a local issue; a national tariff law should be based upon the welfare of the nation solely, unaffected to any degree by the demands of locality, it should aim to bring about the greatest good to the greatest number; but unfortunately, human selfishness will do nothing of the kind. Having this fact in mind and noticing the habitual inconsistency of the Republicans of this state in standing out at all times for the highest possible tariff on everything produced in the state, we have had but little sympathy for "insurgency" in California when it comes to the tariff question, and the insurgents originally insured on just that issue. We have less respect, however, for democratic professions of belief in a "tariff for revenue only," as we have failed to notice that they are any more willing to give up the protective features of the revenue system as applied to California products than are the Republicans. The declaration of the Republican platform, however, is an honest one, in that it favors a tariff sufficiently high to cover the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. The principle of protection has under its application by the Republican party given an era of unprecedented prosperity to the United States; it has undoubtedly resulted in the creation of a few millionaires, but it has also given employment at fair wages to the great majority of the workers of the land and its beneficent influence is not confined to any class or section.

As remarked above, the insurgency in the Republican party was caused by the belief of a militant minority that there should be a reduction in the tariff. In view of this fact it is interesting to note that Theodore Roosevelt when president, did not favor the insurgent idea of the tariff; he was a "stand-patter," while the one prominent man in the Republican party connected with his administration who declared himself unequivocally in favor of tariff reduction, was William Howard Taft! There is no good reason for thinking that either one of these men has materially changed his views on the subject, and yet Theodore Roosevelt is looked upon as the Moses of the insurgents while "President Taft" is popularly regarded as the "representative of the regulars." After the passing of the prevailing fever of admiration for Roosevelt, the people of the United States will settle down to a sane comparison of the record of the two men, and while acknowledging the great services rendered by Roosevelt in blazing the way for the abolition of great abuses in government, will accord to the present occupant of the white house, full credit for having without the beating of drums or the blare of trumpets taken the loose policies of his predecessor and given to them the efficiency which he perhaps better than any other man, possessed the skill, the power and the patriotism to do.

EXPERIENCE IN MOOT COURT ASSISTS MEN ON BENCH.

The College of Law of the University of Southern California has a judicial system of its own, so like the real one of this county and state that men of all ages argue demurrers and motions and cross-examine witnesses as though the lives and fortunes of their clients depend upon their faithfulness and skill.

Here, E. W. Tritt, principal of one of the largest schools of the city, will defend an action which Stanley H. Benedict, candidate for the assembly on the Republican ticket, prosecutes. A commissioner of the land office, O. R. W. Robinson, is pitted against R. H. Norton, a well-known retired mining engineer.

Last year the moot court tried 300 cases, and Mr. Craig, secretary of the school, estimates that 700 will be handled this year.

Probably the most unique feature of the local law school is its practice court. This department is one which is maintained by only a few colleges, and, therefore, the court here is planned along original lines. It has required seven years to work out a system in which the procedure of the superior and appellate courts of the state is adjusted to the conduct of fictitious cases.

Gavin W. Craig, who accomplished this work, was the only judge of the court for the first two years. The third year, Elmer R. McDowell and R. A. Odell presided over departments two and three, and since then Kemper B. Campbell, Walter L. Bowers, L. B. Binford, James S. McKnight and Vincent Morgan have been added. These judges are a part of the faculty of the school. The court has a regular paid clerk, who has an office devoted entirely to his work.

Owing to the demands of other duties, Gavin W. Craig, who has heretofore acted as presiding judge, is to be succeeded by Elmer R. McDowell. Mr. Craig's election to the superior court seems assured, and attorneys who know the work of the moot court say that his experience in it will prove an ideal training.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The regular session of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening in the L. O. O. F. hall. The attendance was large and a number of matters of importance were taken up and discussed.

The final organization was completed by the appointment of eight standing committees.

Arrangements are being made for another entertainment next Tuesday evening to be equally as fine as the one previously given. The Glendale Band will furnish a number of selections and the public is urged to attend.

"AT HOME."

In response to invitations issued sixty guests gathered at the Country Club Saturday afternoon to meet Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam, hostess of the occasion.

The reception hall and drawing room were decorated entirely in gold and white. Immense masses of yellow and white chrysanthemums were stationed at frequent intervals, while the alcove was banked with ferns and palms.

Twelve tables were arranged for whist, bridge whist and five hundred. A miniature rustic bridge suspended from the chandelier designated the bridge section, the Roman numeral "D" signified five hundred, and the word whist in artistic rustic letters marked the whist tables.

Mrs. E. F. Tholen captured the head prize in bridge, a Royal Doulton teapot, and Mrs. Menzo Williams the consolation prize, a book, "Stung Again!"

In five hundred, Mrs. A. L. Loomis was awarded a handsome hand-painted urn, and Mrs. J. W. Netherly was consoled with a pugacious china dog labeled, "The Fight's Over."

Mrs. L. A. Monroe won the first whist prize, a German ware jardinerie, and Mrs. James McIntyre, Sr., the consolation prize, a hand-painted candle stick to throw "A little light on the subject."

At the end of the games the afternoon was concluded by the serving of refreshments in three courses.

Exquisitely hand-painted score cards made dainty souvenirs of the occasion.

FEDERATION MEETING.

The meeting Saturday evening of the Parent-Teacher Federation at the G. U. H. S., was one of the most successful ever held. About five hundred people assembled in the auditorium. Every school in the Federation had a beautifully decorated punch table presided over by a daintily gowned representative of that district. Washington Park, Eagle Rock, West Glendale, Tropico, Glendale, Fourth street school and Glendale Sixth street school were well represented.

The decorative scheme was carried out in yellow and white under the supervision of Miss Ida M. Waite and Miss Helen Lamson.

Lillian Siedell Carr, who is the fortunate possessor of a voice of unusual sweetness, contributed a vocal selection and was repeatedly encored. Julius Kranz, always enthusiastically received, rendered a violin solo and responded to a hearty encore.

Miss Emma Williams was accompanist for the evening. Mr. E. Sanborn Lacy of the Los Angeles department of compulsory education, gave an excellent address, substituting for Prof. E. C. Lickley, who was unavoidably detained.

A pleasant feature of the occasion was the informal reception prior to the program.

Delightful, indeed, was the music contributed by the high school orchestra under the leadership of Mrs. Gibson.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK AND NEW ENTERPRISE.

The Kelly block on the Kelly tract Casa Verdugo, is almost completed. It is a brick structure, 40x60 feet, two stories with a roof garden. The latter is equipped with twenty electric lights and will be made quite attractive in the event of the upper portion of the building being used as a hotel, as is contemplated. Johnson Brothers will open a grocery store on the ground floor.

The Air Brake.

No forget the inventions of the hour is an impossibility. They are before us at every turn, and many of them contain potentialities vast and much discussed. For that very reason it is well occasionally to contemplate some invention of the past which works unremittently and inconspicuously for the welfare of mankind. Consider the air brake. How many when they take a journey by rail ever take thought of the device which stands ready to insure safety from possible accidents? All are so used to silent noise below the cars that they never consider its portentousness. Yet by this application of the power of compressed air tens of thousands of lives have been preserved and railroad travel has been made more expeditious. All this is ardent truth; not a word of it but what has been said scores of times before. But we like to dwell upon the air brake as one of those typical inventions which are doing their work faithfully and humbly while recent creations get the glory and applause.—Collier's.

Hongkong the Luxurious.

Hongkong, with its luxurious hotels, its princely clubs, its rich and influential banks, housed in splendidly constructed and beautifully designed buildings; its shipyards and graving docks able to care for the largest vessels; its miles of warehouses bursting with wealth; its yellow sailed fleets laden with silks, tea, sugar and precious porcelain; its commerce almost as great as that of New York; its botanical gardens hung amid delightful villas overlooking a harbor that is a city in itself and that floats 10,000 sails; Hongkong, with its wonderful temples of ornate roof, its idols of a hundred sects, its French cathedral, its forts, garrison and naval life, its happy valley race course—all at the end of white man's civilization. Supreme from the peak on which it rests, in well bred aloofness it looks askance at sordid Asia, whence it sprung.—W. J. Ayward in Harper's Magazine.

How "Thon" Would Work.

"Thon" is the word which has been suggested for use as an English pronoun of common gender, a luxury which the English language has thus far had the fortune to forego. It was considered suitable for English because it came from the Greek. Its use may be illustrated as follows:

If a parent desires to spank thon's (his or her, as the case may be) child thon (he or she) should take thon (him, her or it) across thon's knee. Then thon should remove thon's slipper, and after explaining to the child the reprehensibility of thon's conduct thon should apply the slipper to that portion of thon's anatomy which from time immemorial has been dedicated to that purpose.

It may easily be seen from the above how "thon" effects great clarification.—Lippincott's.

In Praise of the Eskimos.

Commander Peary in the narrative describing his discovery of the north pole devotes a very long chapter to the Eskimos, with whom he has had intimate dealings for eighteen years. He tells us that though they are savages they are not savage; that though they are without government they are not lawless; that though they are uneducated they exhibit a remarkable degree of intelligence. He assures us that they have no religion, yet he describes them as devotees of vice and ready to share their last meal with the hungry. He thinks it would be impossible to Christianize them, but they already possess the cardinal graces of faith, hope and charity, for "without them they could never survive the six months' night and the other rigors of their home."

The Greatest Historian.

By common consent the greatest of all historians is Thucydides, the Greek contemporary of Pericles and author of the history of the Peloponnesian war. One of the greatest tributes that can be paid to him is that, according to the estimate of a very able critic, we have a more exact account of a long and eventful period by Thucydides than we have of any period in modern history, equally long and eventful, and yet all this is compressed into a single volume. For concise, vigorous and yet intense presentation Thucydides has never been equaled. He is easily the king of historians.—New York American.

It Did.

"Do you know anything, doctor," said Mrs. Flonkin, "that will put a little color into my cheeks? I am so dreadfully pale."

"Well, madam," replied Dr. Blunt, "perhaps if I tell you that you have a hole in your stocking about the size of a quarter it may have the desired effect."

HOW EXPOSITIONS BRING PROSPERITY

St. Louis, Portland and Seattle
Profit from Big Fairs

Some appreciation of the tremendous and continued prosperity that the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 will mean to California can be gained from the reports of officials who planned and built the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904, the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland in 1905, and the Alaska-Pacific-Yukon Exposition at Seattle in 1909. These three successful fairs are now so far in the past that their effect upon the regions in which they were given can be calmly judged. And, after the bustle and confusion of the great expositions have died away, and the years have brought the citizens back to old business channels, the opinion of every one of them is that their trade has been increased from 18 to 25 per cent, the population of the State increased in proportion, and a benefit garnered that will continue to increase in the future, as it has increased every year since the exposition gates were closed.

Rolla Wells, Mayor of St. Louis, chooses to make his statement in figures:

"When I tell you," Mayor Wells said recently, "that the carloads of freight handled by St. Louis for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904—which included all the freight incident upon the construction of our fair—was 1,534,985, and the carloads handled during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905—which did not include one pound of world's fair freight—was 1,814,002 cars, you can appreciate what an impetus our fair gave to business in our State and the surrounding country. This gain in freight carloads of 279,016, an 18 per cent increase over the abnormal increase of 1904, shows how the level of normal business was raised. This increase has been proportionately sustained since that time in a constantly increasing ratio of gain."

"Statistics compiled by the Business Men's League of St. Louis show that in the year succeeding the World's Fair a total of $12,500,000 in new capital was invested in manufacturing enterprises here, and a total of $10,500,000 of new capital invested in commercial enterprises. The increase in bank deposits in the year following the fair—the time when the croakers said there would be a slump—was $50,000,000. Building permits in 1904, the year when we opened our fair, and therefore the year when all fair building ended, were $14,075,794. Building permits in 1905, when the fair was over, totaled $23,204,194. Real estate transfers in 1904 were $42,289,256; in 1905 they were $78,949,532. At the close of business on December 30, 1905, the St. Louis Clearing House Association reported that the total clearings for the year reached a total of $2,899,785,979, the greatest in the city's history, greater by $106,566,061 than the clearings of 1904, and greater by $389,319,734 than the clearings of 1903.

"I use the year after the fair to show the immediate gain to us in legitimate business following the cash of the show. St. Louis, in my opinion, profited much less, too, than the surrounding country. As an exploitation of the opportunities offered around our city the fair meant millions of dollars invested and thousands of moneyed settlers drawn to the agricultural features of our State.

"We are going to hold another fair as soon as we can decently ask the government to allow us."

In the words of C. C. Chapman, manager of the promotion committee of the Portland Commercial Club, and a high executive officer in the Lewis and Clark Exposition, "Oregon was placed on the mental map of every intending colonist and investor through the agency of our exposition."

"Portland owes its present era of prosperity and growth to the Lewis and Clark Exposition in 1905," Mr. Chapman said. "All Oregon dates a tremendous impetus in business and realty values from that date. In 1904, when the exposition was being completed and financed, Oregon and Portland were little known anywhere, and Seattle, Spokane and the British country were upon every tongue. The Columbia river was as unfamiliar to the public mind as the remote Yukon, and the great Willamette river was less famed than Bubbly creek. Our immense and rich agricultural lands—the Columbia valley, for instance—were awaiting the settler and the investor, but both were turning their faces elsewhere.

"Then came the fair. We featured, in our publicity work, the State in which Portland was placed, and the Columbia valley that was adjacent to the city, and the jewel of the State. The State of Oregon became famed all over the Union as we extended our exposition advertising, and people began to send in inquiries even before the fair started, and then to flock to the land.

"Much to the surprise of the ever-present knockers there was no slump after the exposition, but a steady, healthy, continual ratio of growth in population and wealth and values. That has continued to the present time, and is increasing in added ratio. We of Oregon believe our exposition to be the best thing that ever happened here."

F. L. CHURCH,

City Treasurer of the City of Glendale.

Dated, Glendale, California, Oct. 17, 1910.

FOOLING HER HUSBAND.

That there are more ways than one of "killing a cat" is a well known fact, but the newest of ways has been evolved from the fertile brain of a Germantown woman who is blessed with a stingy husband. This husband is generous enough in one sense of the word. His wife may have the best attire the stores afford charged to his account, but she may handle no money. Women, in this man's opinion, know nothing of the value of a dollar. On leaving for his office in the morning he kisses her goodby and thrusts a quarter's worth of trolley tickets into her hand.

Now m'lady goes shopping, buys a few necessities and a fifty dollar wrap for which she has no use whatever. Next day she returns the latter, receives a credit slip for $50 and betakes herself to the handkerchief counter, where she spends 50 cents, receiving $49.50 change. Placing some small change in her purse and stowing the roll of greenbacks in what she considers a safer receptacle, she leaves the shop feeling that she has made the best of a bad bargain.—Philadelphia Record.

A Said Fact.
It is common to deplore the lack of humor in a person. Yet the very want of wit may save a certain amount of embarrassment, as was the case on a certain occasion with President Johnson. "He was one day," says a writer in Harper's Magazine, "visiting my mother, and a friend, Mrs. Knox, a widow, came in. She had known Mr. Johnson some years before, when he was a member of the legislature, but they had not met since then.

"After mutual recognition Mr. Johnson said: 'How is Mr. Knox? I have not seen him lately.'

"He has been dead six years," said Mrs. Knox.

"I thought I hadn't seen him on the street," said Mr. Johnson.

"When Mrs. Knox left my mother said, laughing, 'That was a funny mistake of yours about Mr. Knox.'

"What mistake did I make?" said Johnson. "I said I hadn't seen him on the street, and I hadn't."

Fixed For the Future.
Friend—Haven't you named the baby yet?

Proud Mother—No; we must be very careful to give him a nice one, because there will be so many named after him when he is president.

What Did He Mean?
Mrs. H.—I see there's a man in France who has murdered three of his wives in succession. I'd like to see the man who would murder me.

Mr. H.—So would I, my dear.

BASEBALL NOTES.

The U. S. C. freshmen defeated the Verdugo team Saturday, score 6 to 1. Verdugo simply couldn't seem to hit Haskins, the other pitcher's balls.

Verdugo walked away with Sunday's game defeating the South Central Merchants 8 to 1. They thought they were up against a real pitcher until the third inning when they solved his curves and were disillusioned, making four runs in the third inning, one in the fourth and three in the eighth.

Smith, pitcher for the S. C. M., is supposed to be an old Angel pitcher, but it certainly didn't take a big leaguer to get next to his curves last Sunday. Verdugo got four doubles and made sixteen hits. Gervais pitched his usual fine game allowing only two hits.

The manager has added a new player, Charlie Hunter, to the team. Hunter is an old Tropic player, but has been out of the game some time, however his work Sunday shows he can "come back."

The Verdugo team will appear in their new suits next Sunday.

Another new ball team has been added to J. W. Everett's collection, Jewel City by name. They went to Coleridge Sunday and were defeated 2 to 8. "Nuff sed."

CITY TRUSTEES

A Meeting of Unusual Interest—Protest Against Bill Boards—Debate Over Library Question

There was a large attendance of interested spectators in the lobby, a considerable number of ladies being present. After the reading of the minutes, all members of the board being present, the ladies were given a hearing. Dr. Jessie A. Russell, representing the Civic committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, voiced the vigorous protest of the club against the granting of a special permit to erect a billboard at Third and Brand boulevard, of any size or kind, particularly against the one now being erected, which it is proposed to make a foot or two higher than the limitations of the ordinance.

At the last meeting of the board an application had been received for the erection of a board ten feet high at Third and Brand, the same being referred to the police and sanitary committee, consisting of Messrs. Watson, Anderson and Lane. The committee was unable to agree, and at their request a recess was declared to enable them to "get together." The three members then went into the engineer's office, serving as a committee room, and were followed by a large delegation of ladies. As a result of the conference, when the meeting came to order the committee reported that the request for a special permit in regard to the large billboard had been withdrawn. This matter being disposed of, the question of the selection of a lot for the location of the proposed Carnegie library was next taken up.

Mr. Gibson P. Kelly addressed the board in regard to the matter. Mr. Kelly stated that he represented the Chamber of Commerce and a large number of citizens, and requested that the trustees take action for a bond election to the amount of $12,000 for the purchase of a lot or lots upon which to erect a library. In reply to a question, Mr. Kelly stated that only one-half of this sum would be required for the library site, but he believed it would be wise to get ground enough to put a city hall on if necessary, or at least such a building as would answer for the present that other purpose.

Mr. J. W. Taitton, president of the Glendale Valley Improvement Association, requested that action on the matter be deferred for one week, in order that the association might debate and take some action in the matter. Mr. E. U. Emery spoke, urging immediate action, and asking that the location be made somewhere between Glendale avenue and Kenwood street.

Mrs. Gridley, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, addressed the board, supporting the request of Mr. Taitton for a week's delay. She expressed the belief that the library should be placed near the high school, as the first consideration of adult citizens should be the welfare of the rising generation. The matter is such an important one that no hasty action should be taken. Mr. Lane, member of the library board, and also city trustee, followed Mrs. Gridley, also urging delay. He made a plea for harmony, and thought that it would be better to delay action until the city is larger and a building can be secured more creditable to the city than can be had for $15,000.

Trustee Watson spoke, favoring immediate action, as he could see no good reason for delay. Trustee Coker expressed the belief that other taxpayers should be considered as well as those who urged immediate action, and asked for a postponement of action.

Mr. Anderson thought that no reason existed for further postponement of action. He thought that the question had been before the people for a long time, and need be no longer put off. Mr. Lane spoke again. He did not favor any lot anywhere less than 150 feet square; he believed the location should be between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue, but he did not think it should be on Fourth street, for the reason that it is not usual for public libraries in cities to be located on the main business street.

Mr. Kelly spoke again, urging prompt action. Trustee Coker, with some warmth, expressed his impatience at the insistence of a portion of the audience upon immediate action, and wanted to know what was the object behind it. As Mrs. Gridley took the floor again at this point, none of the insistent speakers answered Mr. Coker's question. Mr. E. D. Goode said that some misunderstanding seemed to exist in regard to the matter, and he thought no harm could come from postponing it a week or a month. At last the question came to a vote, and the matter was postponed until next Monday evening.

The tax collector reported total collections up to date $1314.56. The Glendale Investment Company reported library lots available as follows: Lots 5 and 6, block 59, southeast corner Fourth and Louise, price $2,550. These two lots and lot 1, adjoining, to be had for $7,250. Lots 1 and 2 in same block, southwest corner Fourth and Kenwood, $6,000. A communication was received, asking permission to make certain improvements by private contract, from John W. Henderson, which was granted. The city attorney reported having, with the city engineer, seen the Pacific Electric officials, and having received assurance from them that material would be delivered on Brand boulevard, at Maple, Ninth street and Lomita avenue, at once, for the purpose of opening the crossings at those thoroughfares, and that deeds to the same crossings would be delivered to the City of Glendale as soon as the proper officials returned to the city to affix their signatures. (Some of the material has been delivered.) The city attorney presented an ordinance requiring certain establishments to be provided with fire hose, etc.

DANA BARTLETT AT THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB MEETING.

It is to be regretted that there was not time to properly advertise to the people of Glendale and vicinity the fact that Dana Bartlett was to appear before the Tuesday Afternoon Club Tuesday last, he having been substituted for Mrs. Baurhyte, as the speaker, for the occasion only two or three days before. As it was, however, there was a good audience composed principally of the members of the club, which had the pleasure of listening to the distinguished speaker, Mr. Bartlett, who is a reverend, by the way, has become well known to the people of Los Angeles and Southern California as a most successful "slum" worker, through his connection with the Bethlehem Mission. Besides his practical work for the unfortunate of the "down and out" class, Mr. Bartlett is engaged in another work of great general interest, and that is in the creation of the "City Beautiful," which means of course the future Los Angeles and for that he has some excellent ideas. His efforts in this direction are not confined to Los Angeles; his ideas being general in their nature and of interest to those engaged everywhere in working for improved civic conditions. In his Tuesday afternoon address, Mr. Bartlett told of his work in the slums of Los Angeles and gave interesting details of specific good accomplished. He is an inspiring optimist and believes that the world is constantly growing better. He spoke of the work of the juvenile courts and the growing tendency upon the part of the authorities to give the first offenders against the law an opportunity for a real reform. Referring to the fact that the city of Los Angeles owns a farm of several hundred acres along the Los Angeles river where it is desired to put a large number of this class to work, he expressed the hope that the people of this "Christian" community would not protest against the establishment of this municipal experiment, as had previously been done by a large number of property owners.

He expressed the hope and belief that in the near future there will be no such a thing as a slum district in any city and one of the things for which the authorities should legislate should be the preventing of the establishment of such districts. In this connection he stated his belief that it is a mistake to confine factories and other big concerns, employing large numbers of people to any restricted district. Mr. Bartlett is a pleasing speaker with a real message for the people and the hope was generally expressed that Glendale may soon have the opportunity of hearing him again.

GAY TIMES IN LITTLE JAPAN.

The members of the Japanese colony and a few favored American guests had a gay time last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Katsaki on the Witham place, Lomita avenue. The party was in honor of the infant daughter of the host and hostess and was in the nature of a name-giving ceremony, which in Japan is always an occasion for rejoicing. The long shed in which the entertainment was given was transformed into a most attractive scene made bright by many lamps and affording a vista of a long table fairly crowded with eatables, every separate article decorated with fancy paper greenery and flowers, red, yellow and green predominating, the whole producing a bewildering effect of light and color. About sixty Japanese were present, many of them being guests from Los Angeles. The little daughter of the house was carried in the mother's careful arms and presented to each individual in the company, receiving many gifts from those present. The first course consisted of fish in what seemed to be an almost infinite variety of style, served cold, but in a manner most tempting to the palate. There was also a variety of beverages, the names of which in Japanese not being known to the reporter need not be mentioned, but the health of the young lady of the house was drank heartily and frequently. Other courses followed, service being made by a number of waiters secured for the occasion, and all of the guests were made to feel the true spirit of hospitality that prevailed; the host and hostess keeping busily employed in ministering to their guests. There was much singing in Japanese and the American guests present rendered "America." Many of the dishes and ornaments were rare and valuable. The American guests departed after the first course, delighted with their glimpse of social life in the "Land of the Rising Sun."

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR ROSCOE CHILD ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTING ITSELF.

A very sad accident occurred at the rock quarry just above Roscoe, on Saturday afternoon, when little Donald McKiraham, the year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. McKiraham, who have the boarding house at that place, accidentally shot himself. It is not exactly known how the accident occurred, but it is thought that the little fellow entered the tent of the night watchman and took from under the pillow an automatic revolver and on examining it accidentally shot himself. The bullet entered the abdomen, penetrated it and severed the spinal column. When first found, the little fellow simply said he was sick at his stomach and was treated for a case of poisoning. But on the arrival of Doctor Thompson who was immediately sent for, the real cause was discovered. He was rushed to the hospital at Burbank, and everything that medical skill and nursing could do was done, but all to no avail.

The little fellow passed away about midnight. He had been repeatedly warned by his father never to enter any tent, and under no consideration to handle any fire arms whatever, and it is surmised that when the accident occurred, he was afraid to tell what had, or how it happened for fear he would be reprimanded. Little Donald was a beautiful child and made friends with every one. He was far beyond his years in intellect and will be missed by all who know him. The body was taken to Pulliam's Undertaking Parlors, Glendale, and interment made in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Tropico.

(Written for the GLENDALE NEWS) OCTOBER DAYS.

These days my heart with longing fills For Maine's beloved vales and hills.

To walk once more in woodland ways As oft in past October days.

The pathways strewn with regal leaves A carpet fair as Persia weaves.

The maples glow with ruddy light And crowned with gold each wooded height.

Pond memory clings to fairest days And half forgets time's sadder ways.

For all too soon 'neath winter's snow Faded will lie this autumn's glow.

A later love as dear I hold For newer scenes as for the old.

Where flowers through all the year may blow Safe from the touch of winter's snow.

Could I be sure a land as fair To find, and friends would know me there.

I glad would leave this mortal coil To mother earth's renewing soil.

I do not fear the wearing night Passing the dark will come my light.

SIXTH STREET SCHOOL BENEFIT.

Thursday afternoon for the benefit of the Parent Teachers' association, the students of the school and friends of the association rendered a very enjoyable program.

The program consisted of a chorus of twelve from the primary department, an instrumental selection by Mrs. Dorothy Dow of the eighth grade, readings by Evangeline Hunchberger and Joyce Dornay of the sixth grade, piano solo by Waulita Emery, sixth grade; a recitation by Mildred McKee of the fourth grade; a vocal duet by Hugh and Dean Bryant, a vocal solo by Mrs. J. Scott, accompanied by a pupil of the school, and a duet by Miss Hollingsworth and Mrs. Emma Burket.

IN SHEET AND PILLOW CASE.

Rather grousome was the welcome accorded Miss Anita Wells who has recently returned from Europe. Monday night at the invitation of Miss Alice Frank about thirty of Miss Wells' friends assembled at Miss Frank's home and arrayed themselves in sheet and pillow case, then each carrying a grinning Jack O' lantern they wended their way up the hill to Miss Wells' home waiting Anita-Anita. On reaching the house they circled round about in a ghostly spooky dance. After that sheet and pillow cases were discarded and the guests greeted Miss Wells.

Refreshments appropriate to Halloween were served in the barn, and the evening was concluded with a short musical program.
